

Artist Biography

April Howland has been a professional artist for over 15 years. After studying under a wonderful art mentor in Sedona, Arizona and receiving her degree, she sought out various acclaimed artists and instructors and began honing her fine art skills.

Inspired by nature and animals, April's primary focus remains steady in her thriving wildlife series and domestic animal portrait business. As she travels the globe from Alaska to Africa for inspiration, April's eye for composition and design combined with her love of color enables her to create rich and unique art pieces. Her one of a kind style is a successful blend of contemporary and realism. She uses a variety of materials to accomplish her works but her methodology remains consistent. "To me, each piece of art is a beautiful learning experience with amazing shapes and tones."

April's works have been in a number of juried shows. She has been a guest artist in various galleries and is now represented by Beals & Co in Santa Fe and Coco Milano's in Mesa, AZ. April has been featured in a variety of publications and television news programs for her artwork which include Phoenix People, The Barking Beast San Diego, Scottsdale's Foothills Focus, The Arizona Republic, PBS Horizon Arizona, and many local NBC, FOX and ABC news programs. April has many collectors both national and abroad. She resides in Phoenix, Arizona with her husband Glen, her son, and a small group of rescue animals.
